BATCH COOK THE PROTEINS

- depending on the kind of protein you have, whether animal based or plant-based, you can either roast, air-fry, slow cook (for tough cuts of meat)
- use marinades to season and you can make sauces that you can use later.
- there's also so many ways you can use one type of protein and use it as base to create more meals out of it for variety and so you don't have the same meal everyday.

TIPS FOR MEAL PREP

- choose a day or two every week to meal prep.
- it doesn't have to be perfect - do what works for you.
- having a variety of vegetables and fruits ensures adequate intake of essential nutrients.
- focus on fiber-rich foods and non-starchy vegetables which help with digestion and helps us to feel fuller for longer periods of time.
- marinades - use of spices, citrus, vinegar to flavour foods and reduce risk of consuming excess sodium/salt
- taste food before adding salt
